studies, including a description of the population and the rationale for inclusion/exclusion of women, minorities and children, must be provided to the NIH program administrator of this grant before any trainee undertakes such studies.

Funds are provided in this award to support new stipend levels.

The Tuition and Fees category has been calculated using the following per trainee formula: 100% of all costs up to $3,000 + 60% of costs above $3,000. Actual reimbursement is not limited to this formula.

Although future years include a recommended number of trainee positions, actual award levels are contingent upon availability of funds.
